HAPPY MEALS

Dialogue between Michael (M) and a customer (C).

- C: Two hamburger Happy Meals, please. 1
- M: With fries?
- C: I think fries come with them.
- M: Let me see... Oh, sure, ma'am. And, what will you have to drink? 5
- C: Apple juice.
- M: Is this for here or to go?
- C: To go. And please don't forget the toys.
- M: Excuse me?
- C: Toys, they come with the Happy Meals. 10
- M: Oh, yes! You're right! They do come with them.
I am sorry, ma'am.
- C: Not a problem. Can you add one coffee with cream and sugar? Make it a small. And two large twist cones, please.
- M: I'm sorry, ma'am. The ice cream machine isn't on. 15
We don't serve ice cream until noon.
- C: Are you sure? This has never happened before. My kids always get their ice cream.
- M: Let me double check. Please give me one second. Oh, I'm so sorry. You're right again. So that's two Happy Meals 20 with apple juice, two large twist cones, one small coffee with cream and sugar. Will that be all, ma'am?
- C: Yes, that'll be it for now. Please put them on my charge card.
- M: Is it a credit or a debit, ma'am? 25
- C: Debit, as usual. You don't accept credit cards.
- M: We don't?
- C: No, you don't. You have a lot to learn, young man.
- M: It's my first day on the job, ma'am. My apologies.
- C: Never mind. Are we good to go? 30
- M: Yes, your debit has been approved. Here is your card, ma'am. Have a nice day.

STUDY GUIDE

1. Two hamburger Happy Meals, please.
This is a short form of saying “I would like to order two hamburger Happy Meals, please.” Happy Meal in capitals indicates it is a special meal prepared by the restaurant.
2. What will you have to drink?
There are many ways of saying this (from formal to casual): What would you like to drink? What will you have to drink? What do you want to drink? How about a drink? Anything (or something) to drink?
3. Is this (order) for here or to go?
There are many ways of saying this (from formal to casual): Are they (these items) for here or to go? Is this order for here or to go? Is this for here or to go? To eat in or (to) take out? For here or to go?
4. Make it a small.
This is a short form of saying “Make the coffee a small size coffee.”
5. The kids always get their ice cream.
The use of the present tense shows it is something that happens to them all the time. However, if it only happened once or twice before, the customer should use past tense “The kids got their ice cream yesterday” or present perfect tense “They have gotten it a couple of times before.”
6. Will that be all?
There are many ways of saying this (from formal to casual): Is that everything you would like to order? Is there anything else you need? Will that be all? Anything else? Is that it?
7. That’ll be it for now.
There are many ways of saying this (from formal to casual): My order is complete. That is all I want to order now. That’s good for now. That will do the job. That’s it.
8. Are we good to go?
There are many ways of saying this (from formal to casual): May we go now? Can we go now? Are we good to go? Are we finished? Are we done? Is that it?
9. Have a nice day.
There are many greetings used when people are separating. However, some people feel they are overused in the business world (from formal to casual): Have a nice day. Have a great weekend. Good day. Good-bye. Have a good one. Have fun. Enjoy.

choose the expression that has the closest meaning.

IN ANOTHER CONTEXT

Practice the following sentence patterns by reading them aloud to the class.
Try to make one new sentence for each pattern using your own words.

Let me	see. check. check for you. double check.	Please give me	one second. a second. two minutes. a moment.
--------	---	----------------	---

The toys Sugar and cream Ice cream French fries	always usually sometimes never	come(s) with	Happy Meals. coffee. set meals. salad.
--	---	--------------	---

We don't	serve sell buy make	ice cream tea coffee juice	until after before	noon. 3 pm. Sunday. summer.
----------	------------------------------	-------------------------------------	--------------------------	--------------------------------------

Can you add one coffee	with cream and sugar? with cream but no sugar? with sugar but no cream? with no cream or sugar?	Make it	a small. a large. to go. for here.
------------------------	--	---------	---

My kids We Judy He	always never	get their ice cream. go to school on time. stays late at night. gets up early.
-----------------------------	-----------------	---

CONVERSATION PRACTICE

Role-play the following dialogue with a partner.

If you can't remember every word, use your own words to say the same thing.

- a. A large order of fries and an apple juice, please.
- b. For here or to go?
- c. For here. Please make the apple juice a large.
- d. Sorry, we don't serve juice in cups.
- e. OK, make it two bottles then.
- f. Will that be all, ma'am?
- g. Yes, here is my charge card.
- h. I'm sorry, ma'am, but we are cash only.

Now work with a classmate and make up a dialogue according to the new situation described below. Try to include at least eight of the new expressions in the table:

make it	Will that be all?
come with	For here or to go?
until	Not a problem.
put ~ on ~	My apologies.
is approved	Never mind.
accept	Are we good to go?

Situation: A is a vegetarian. A is ordering lunch from B (for example: veggie hamburger, low fat salad, tofu soup, fresh juice, decaf green tea or sugar-free cookie).

- A: _____
- B: _____
- A: _____
- B: _____
